To whom it may concern:

Patrice DeHaven has been a wonderful resource for providing recognition gift baskets for my business. I can always rely on her for providing very inspiring and creative baskets for my various recognition programs. She is very reliable and easy to work with. In addition, I know I can count on her to provide excellent service and a great product. I have been patronizing her business for several years and I have never been disappointed by her.

Sincerely,

Jon Cobbs
